

29th INTERNATIONAL CONGRESS OF CESH

Rouen (France), 16-18 June 2026

PROGRAMME

DISCRIMINATION AND INCLUSION

The Organisation of Sport and Physical Education in Europe from Antiquity to Modern Times

Dear All,

Welcome to the University of Rouen Normandy and its Faculty of Sports Sciences and Physical Education. The programme you are holding in your hands gives the roadmap for the next three exciting days of sports history and academic exchanges. The choice to question discrimination and inclusion in the organisation of sport intends to stimulate the reflection on the various organisational patterns of physical activities. The conference topic especially invites to analyse the ideological, political and social dimensions of sports organisation and the often-biased discourses on sport.

You have come from all parts of Europe and beyond to present your research on these issues. I am immensely thankful for your enthusiastic response to the call for papers and participation. Each of you will contribute to the success of the conference by giving a paper, asking questions or just listening. The conference that unites us here is the result of weeks, months, years of preparation. It is a little milestone in the history of CESH and of sports history more generally. May all colleagues and friends be thanked for their constant support. Special thanks go to the Directing Council of CESH, the public bodies which funded the event and to my great colleagues in Rouen who have all been very supportive.

Enjoy your time in the Rouen area!

Prof Daphné BOLZ

Chair of the Organisation Committee of CESH 2026

Past President of CESH

University of Rouen Normandy – CETAPS (UR 3832)

Dear Colleagues, Dear Friends,

It is a great honour and pleasure to welcome you to the 29th CESH Congress, held this year in the beautiful and historic city of Rouen, France, from 16 to 18 June 2026. On behalf of CESH, I would like to express my sincere gratitude to the local organising committee, led by Daphné Bolz and her team at the University of Rouen Normandy, for their outstanding work, dedication, and enthusiasm in preparing this congress. Their efforts have made possible an event that brings together researchers, scholars, and students from many different countries and academic traditions.

The theme of this year's congress, "Discrimination and Inclusion: The Organization of Sport and Physical Education in Europe from Antiquity to the Present Day", invites us to reflect on one of the great challenges facing both sport and society. Sport has historically functioned as a space of integration, participation, and dialogue, but also, at times, as a field marked by exclusion, inequality, and conflict.

Over the course of three content-rich days, you will have the opportunity to attend a diverse range of sessions, including more than 85 oral presentations grouped into 27 panels, which will explore from multiple perspectives the role that sport and physical education have played as instruments of both discrimination and inclusion from Antiquity to the present day. In addition, we will have the pleasure of listening to keynote lectures delivered by internationally renowned scholars in the field of sport history, such as Florys Castan-Vicente and Mike Cronin.

I would also like to thank all participants for your presence, your research, and your continued support for CESH. Your work contributes to consolidating sports history as a dynamic and essential field within history and humanities.

I wish you all an inspiring congress, stimulating discussions, and a memorable stay in Rouen.

With my warmest regards,

Juan Antonio SIMÓN
